Overview

The "China Venture Capital & Private Equity Semi-Annual Forum 2008" sponsored by Zero2IPO Group will be held in Hangzhou from 9 -10 July 2008.

The various data of 2007 have proved that China's venture capital market is flourishing as never before, making it the most active private equity investment market in Asia. With the development of RMB private equity funds, the private equity investment is expected to become the most attractive part of China's economy from 2008. And the year 2008 will also unquestionably witness the peak in the rapid development of the innovation economy and venture capital. The 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing will drive the growth of various Olympic Games related businesses, and China's capital market, under such circumstances is becoming the center of attention of the global capital.

In the global context of the increasing inflation pressure, will China economy maintain its high-speed growth? Where is the turning point? Where can we find the next wave of investment opportunities after we have experienced the harvest and the noise? Have PE funds got prepared for the challenges from VC? How to create new investment possibilities? How valuable are China's VC companies to the entrepreneurs? On the forthcoming "China Venture Capital & Private Equity Semi-Annual Forum 2008" we will invite the top VC investors, entrepreneurs, fund investors and the relevant professionals to gather together to share their views and experiences and find cooperation opportunities. The Forum will also focus on the hot industries for investment and highly potential projects with the expectation that the exchange of views of the professional investors may inject vitality into the growth of the industry.

The Forum will last two days and the main activities will include speeches, round table forums, presentations and investment workshops. Besides, you will also find the "Third Top 50 Most Valuable Enterprises for Investment" award ceremony worth your while.

This is the eighth year since 2001 when Zero2IPO Group sponsored the first China Venture Capital & Private Equity Forum. Today the Forum has become a notable brand highly recognized in China's VC and PE industries. The forum designed for the professional investors, entrepreneurs, research institutes and those relevant with the industry will play a role to bridge the investors in China with the foreign capital and will strive to become a platform in helping you with greater business achievements.
